

Communities By Design, a nonprofit 501c(3) training and education organization, in cooperation with the City of Redwood City, is pleased to present:

The Forum at Redwood City

A CONTINUING CONVERSATION ON CITY DESIGN

Little Fox Theatre
2209 Broadway,
Redwood City

Fee for the Forum: $10 (checks or cash,
payable at the door)

The event will be followed by an optional,
no-host dinner.

For more information,
please contact Dan Zack, City of Redwood City, at (650) 780-7363 or DZack@redwoodcity.org

Please mark your calendars for future Forums!

The Forum at Redwood City
will be held on the first Wednesday of the month at 6:00pm.

Please note: Due to State regulations, attendance at the Little Fox Theatre is limited to persons over 21.

The next in this exciting series will focus on

The High Cost of Free Parking

Featuring one of the leading thinkers in new parking policies

Doug Kolozsvari

Environmental Planner, Bay Area Air Quality Management District

Based on a brand new book from the APA by the same title, Doug's talk will examine how "free parking" almost always has an associated cost and can actually hurt businesses, the local transportation system and the environment. As a graduate student researcher for UCLA Professor Donald Shoup, Doug co-authored an article with Shoup: "Turning Small Change into Big Changes" (Access, Fall 2003).

Wednesday, April 6, 2005
6:00 — 7:45pm

Doors open at 5:30pm
Coffee and no-host bar available

Please note: A special 2-hour Forum on May 4, 2005 will address "The Implications of High Speed Rail and Caltrain for the Peninsula and its Historic Downtowns."