

Communities By Design, a nonprofit 501c(3) training and education organization, in cooperation with the City of Redwood City, is pleased to present:

The Forum at Redwood City

A CONTINUING CONVERSATION ON CITY DESIGN

Little Fox Theatre
2209 Broadway,
Redwood City

Fee for the Forum: $10 (checks or cash, payable at the door)

The event will be followed by an optional no-host dinner.

For more information, please contact Dan Zack, City of Redwood City, at (650) 780-7363 or dzack@redwoodcity.org

Please mark your calendars for future Forums!

The Forum at Redwood City will be held on the first Wednesday of the month at 6:00pm

Please note: Due to State regulations, attendance at the Little Fox Theatre is limited to persons over 21.

The next in this exciting series will focus on

Is Smart Growth Possible in California?

One Small City's Herculean Tale of Transformation

Featuring planner and innovator

Stephen Lawton

Community Development Director, City of Hercules, CA

A half-million new Californians appear every year. That's 68 people per hour. They want to buy your house. Or they want to live near you - probably on your way to work - or to take down the trees and develop that nice hillside. City planners talk about transit and density, calling it "Smart Growth," but you've never seen that work here. What's in this Smart Growth for you? Is this for real? Can the people down at City Hall actually make it work?

Wednesday, February 7, 2007

6:00 – 7:45pm

Doors open at 5:30pm
Coffee and no-host bar available

Please note: The Forum will be held on the first Wednesday of each month through May 2007.