station agent

Wed. Sept 7 at 6:30 p.m.

Directed by Thomas McCarthy; Starring Peter Dinklage and Patricia Clarkson; Miramax Films; Rated R; 88 minutes, 2003. "The powerfully understated charmer, The Station Agent, is nothing more - and nothing less -- than the quiet study of a gently unfurling friendship between three misfits." – Megan Lehmann, New York Post

schulze gets the blues

Wed. Oct 5 at 6:30 p.m.

"Directed by Michael Schorr; starring Horst Krause; Paramount Classics; 113 minutes; German and English dialogue, English subtitles. 2003. "The geriatric, Teutonic equivalent of a Jim Jarmusch film." – John Beifuss, Commercial Appeal

can we make it to mars? - introduced by Katie Berryhill

Wed. Nov 2 at 6:30 p.m.

Hosted by Neil deGrasse Tyson; PBS; 53 minutes, 2011. Can humans survive a trip to Mars and back that could take two to three years? Among the innovations covered are meteoroid-proof materials, new space foods and spacesuits, and novel modes of transport, such as plasma rockets. Katie Berryhill is assistant professor of space studies at American Public University System and a lecturer at San Francisco's Morrison Planetarium.

a Christmas story

Wed. Dec 7 at 6:30 p.m.

Directed by Bob Clark; with Rated PG; 75 minutes, 1993.

"Sentimental without being nauseating, subversive without losing its heart, and a justly celebrated holiday classic." – Rob Vaux, Flipside Movie Emporium

my son the fanatic

Wed. Jan 4 at 6:30 p.m.

"Directed by Udayan Prasad; starring Om Puri, Rachel Griffiths, Stellan Skarsgard; BBC Films; Rated R; 87 minutes, 1998. "It's hard to imagine a more misleading title for this intelligent, delicately textured drama about cross-cultural romance. .. written by Hanif Kureishi... ("My Beautiful Laundrette" and "Sammy and Rosie Get Laid") of Pakistani descent." – E. Guthmann, San Francisco Chronicle

margot at the wedding

Wed. Feb 1 at 6:30 p.m.

"Directed by Noah Baumbach; starring Nicole Kidman, Jennifer Jason, Jack Black, and John Turturro Leigh; Rated R; 91 minutes, 2008. "There is a rawness to the characterization in this lacerating film that pushes family drama right to the edge." – Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times
